As neighbours of Mike Ellis and Julianna Rose (we live at [REDACTED] we just wanted to weigh in on the discussion about their newly built chicken coop. The coop itself is very well built and we do not find the noise or smell bothersome at all. To be honest, you would not know they had chickens other than the occasional chicken noises, which are very common in our neighborhood (there are several other neighbours with chickens). As far as the health and welfare of the chickens (and we do have some experience in this area) they appear to be healthy and very well cared for (although we have not done any hands on examinations). We hope that the chickens and their coop can stay as we actually enjoy hearing them.

To: [REDACTED]

To Whomever It May Concern,

I am writing in support of Jules Rose, Mike Ellis and their chickens.

I live one property over from Jules and Mike's home. From my yard I have a clear, unobstructed view of their chicken coop and chickens. I have never heard any noise from the chickens. What I have observed from a distance is [REDACTED] playing and laughing with the chickens. As someone who was fortunate enough to grow up on a dairy farm with all the animals, I love to see that [REDACTED] is lucky enough to experience having small farm animals.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I'm
sure there are several dogs in the neighborhood that make more noise than the chickens.

Having these chickens removed is completely unnecessary. I'm disappointed to hear that the rdos is still considering any complaints [REDACTED] towards any neighbours, but especially Mike and Jules.

Sincerely,
Laurie Smith

To whom it may concern,

I am a direct neighbor of the person who has submitted this application for a variance permit. I have no problem with this application. There is a total of 13 chickens present in this coop. I hear them when I am outside and I enjoy them. To be honest the process and energy for this permit seems almost like a waste of employees time. What about the birds, coyotes , dogs and others who are around our area who may make noise as well. It's a very small number of livestock that this family enjoys and takes care of.

I live on vedette drive and live by a commercial bakery and my new neighbor basically has a construction company out of his yard. We are subjected to constant noise, more traffic, customers parking on the street , excavators and equipment working and when I have enquired about this I was met with not much of a solution and it carries on so really this whole process for 13 chickens is really not necessary in my mind.

I support their chicken coop.

To whom it may concern:

We are very concerned that this chicken shed has been allowed to remain for nearly 2 years. It was constructed on the shared property line with our home [REDACTED] and is only about 24 meters from our home. The chicken shed was built but not finished on our side as it is only covered in construction wrap. It is much higher than the cedar fence we installed to try and increase our privacy so is unsightly not to mention noisy. We have, from the beginning, tried to communicate with our neighbor that he would not meet the bylaws for our area, however we were rebuffed on several occasions. These bylaws and rules that have been put in place for all our good should be enforced.

I have enclosed a letter posted by the property owners on line to attempt to garner community support.

" Hi Neighbours!

If you live on or near Valiant drive you may have received a development variance application notification from the RDOS regarding our property. I just wanted to take a moment and inform everyone on what it's all about because "Livestock shelter" is a bit vague.

We have a chicken coop in our backyard and our family adores our 13 little hens and are so grateful for the eggs they produce! The RDOS was made aware of our coop and unfortunately its location is not within the bylaws. We have submitted a Development Variance Application to the RDOS to keep the coop (and preferably in the same spot it is currently).

We're grateful to those who have already shown their support by submitting positive letters to the RDOS. So far, we have received over a dozen, we are now reaching out to any neighbors who have not yet had the chance to express their support. We were truly hoping that it wouldn't get to the point that all of this is necessary as the costs and stress associated with this fight have been significant. So much for saving a few bucks on grocery store eggs by getting chickens ha ha!

If you are willing, we kindly ask if you could submit a letter of support to the RDOS. Your support would make a big difference as we move forward with the application process. In the comments I will include a template with all the necessary info or feel free to forward to me directly. If you would like to add a few personal notes or experiences, by all means.

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to let you know about my support for the development variance permit application submitted by my neighbours, Michael Ellis and Julianna Rose-Ellis, regarding the location of their chicken coop at 601 Valiant Drive. I understand that this application would like to keep the chicken coop where it is currently situated.

As a resident of this neighbourhood, I can confirm that the chicken coop does not impact my daily life or the use of the surrounding properties in any negative way. The coop is well-maintained, and any noise or odour associated with it is minimal and not disruptive to the neighbourhood. Additionally, allowing the chicken coop to remain in its current location would not alter the character or quality of our neighbourhood in any way.

I fully support this application and believe it is in the best interest of the community to allow Michael Ellis and Julianna Rose-Ellis to continue keeping their chickens where they are. Please consider granting the variance permit to continue this arrangement.

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter. Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need further information. I can be reached at the phone number or email address above.

Trying to sleuth through the RDOS website and having a hard time finding which animals are considered "small livestock". The only thing I can find is "poultry, rabbit, or other small animals similar in size and weight but does not include farmed fur bearing animals".

Any insights on where I can find an actual list?

Juliana Rose-Ellis you'd think there would be a set list... I'd hate to get an animal that I would consider a small livestock and then get told I have to get rid of them...

Juliana Rose-Ellis I remember someone telling me years ago that 'two hoofed' animals were not allowed. I.e. cows, goats, sheep.

Outcome: WE REQUEST THAT THE RDOS MOVE FORWARD TO ENFORCE THEIR BYLAWS FOR AREA F. R/T THE OFFICAL COMMUNITY PLAN. THIS PLAN IS IN PLACE FOR A REASON. MIKE ELLIS, AS OWNER OF [REDACTED], IS AWARE AND UNDERSTANDS PROPERTY LINE SET BACKS, CORNER PINS, LIVESTOCK SETBACKS, BUILDING PERMITS, ZONING ETC. BUT HE WENT AHEAD ANYWAY.

WE ARE OPPOSED TO THE VARIANCE AS REQUESTED. SOMETHING THAT SHOULD HAVE NEVER BEEN CONSTRUCTED, NOW HAS BECOME A PROBLEM AND WE ARE THE VICTIM. ALL FEELINGS HAVE BEEN ENHANCED BY THE CURRENT RDOS SYSTEM OF "COMPLAINTS NEED TO BE PUT IN WRITING." THIS ONLY PUTS NEIGHBOURS AGAINST NEIGHBOURS. BYLAWS NEED TO BE ENFORCED BY RDOS.

Thank-you,

Hi Neighbours!

If you live on or near Valiant drive you may have received a development variance application notification from the RDOS regarding our property. I just wanted to take a moment and inform everyone on what it's all about because "Livestock shelter" is a bit vague.

We have a chicken coop in our backyard and our family adores our 13 little hens and are so grateful for the eggs they produce! The RDOS was made aware of our coop and unfortunately its location is not within the bylaws. We have submitted a Development Variance Application to the RDOS to keep the coop (and preferably in the same spot it is currently).

We're grateful to those who have already shown their support by submitting positive letters to the RDOS. So far, we have received over a dozen, we are now reaching out to any neighbors who have not yet had the chance to express their support. We were truly hoping that it wouldn't get to the point that all of this is necessary as the costs and stress associated with this fight have been significant. So much for saving a few bucks on grocery store eggs by getting chickens ha ha!

If you are willing, we kindly ask if you could submit a letter of support to the RDOS. Your support would make a big difference as we move forward with the application process. In the comments I will include a template with all the necessary info or feel free to forward to me directly. If you would like to add a few personal notes or experiences, by all means.

Letters can be sent to
