Part A

BACKGROUND

In 2023, the Regional District of Okanagan Similkameen (RDOS) received a grant from the Union of BC Municipalities (UBCM) to conduct an extreme heat assessment and response plan.

The RDOS is commissioning this project on behalf of:

1. The Regional District of Okanagan-Similkameen,
2. Upper Similkameen Indian Band,
3. Lower Similkameen Indian Band,
4. Osoyoos Indian Band,
5. Penticton Indian Band,
6. Town of Princeton,
7. District of Summerland,
8. Town of Oliver,
9. Town of Osoyoos,
10. Village of Keremeos

Economies of scale may be found by designing solutions that can be duplicated. For example, new park structures and facilities can be designed for replicability for multiple sites, simultaneously reducing design and future maintenance costs. Similarly, tree species suitable for extreme heat canopy cover will likely be similar for most neighbouring parts of the geographic boundaries of the Regional District which includes the five Incorporated Communities and four Bands included in this grant application. Economies of scale can also be found in planning for these common solutions and duplicating findings across the wider regional area. The long-term action planned solutions proposed for parks can be replicated by municipalities and bands if suitable. There are additional economies of scale in consistent design engineering, producing findings which have a future scalability of implementation. The RDOS and many partner communities, e.g., Summerland, Princeton, Osoyoos have already conducted energy audits on properties and have a wealth of existing studies and data to inform building upgrade proposals.

The process of producing a consistent final report with specific sub-sections for each participating community will result in a plan that can be shared across the region. The plan's dissemination, promotion and acceptability through regional media can support the public buy-in for future collective funding applications for action relating to the proposals. The partners are hoping that a regional approach will tie the communities together more closely by design and ultimately result in more effective and efficacious actions and responses.

STUDY PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the extreme heat assessment and response plan is to help increase the region's resiliency to future extreme heat events through a variety of different methods. To fulfill this purpose, the plan will help create a way forward to identify possible solutions, buildings, and park space to be developed into areas of cooling through future funding opportunities.

PART B

THE SERVICES

1.0 SCOPE OF RFP

Information Services IT+ GIS

Mapping of proposed location specific actions e.g., in parks, public beaches and public spaces will require GIS technicians to create new layers in the databases for heat risk. The technician will also be required to share those layers with all participating jurisdictions.

In addition to location additions taking existing heat data sets and merging with our existing data and emerging population and public health data sets will require support from the RDOS IT department. This money also includes any finding of new data sets required (some areas have in-house IT and other have contracted IT services – a combination of staff time and contractor time.

Currently, all communities within the region work on different operating systems and have varying levels of GIS support within their community. The region shares information on a common 'GIS' dashboard, but information sharing to better support each other is still antiquated through email. To make this cost effective it is vital to centralize this process.

Heat Mapping Interpret IH data and apply a regional lens

A specific mapping of the heat risk data available from Interior Health with a lens on each community. A specific report will be written planning for actions that will be relevant for the risk profile and geographical reality of each community. This report will be predicated on the specifics identified by the Interior Health report on heat risks for each region. Identified needs will be based on population variables and the heat response needs.

The conclusion of the report will identify the length of time which Extreme Heat events can be anticipated to be present in each community and their frequency. The deliverable will be a matrix of opportunities which could be completed in each municipal and band context.

Understanding socioeconomic risk factors and patterns across the region

This data interpretation will take likelihood of extreme heat emergencies occurring and provide local data to the 10 report sections specified for each community. The community specific report will therefore be able to interpret this data on a sub-regional level.

Calculating what number of people have vulnerability to extreme heat events and establish how many current provisions are able to meet this need. This will also sketch out how many additional facilities will be required to meet projected future need in each context.

The deliverable will be a matrix of opportunities which could be completed in each municipal and band context.

The process of taking in feedback from regional stakeholders will assist in identifying what are the unique needs and opportunities which exist in each community. This can be a discussion with invited groups including but not limited to:

Municipal and Band key staff, United Way, BC Fruit Growers, Interior Health, BC Housing, Ministry of Social Development and Poverty Reduction, South Okanagan Brain Injury Society, Vulnerable Adults groups, South Okanagan Seniors Wellness Society, Church groups, Religious groups (multi-denominational).

Elders from the bands will be able to provide 'traditional knowledge'. Biologists and technologists will be able to provide input into these events to assist with relevant effective options and guiding the outcomes to certain known useful strategies relevant to the wider regional context.

This work includes building a resiliency awareness in the region through the process of holding and hosting events. The aim would be to put these events out in the media both as a way to encourage participation and perspectives, furthermore to promote the work which is being done in each community and increase awareness of the process leading to better outcomes when plans are created to disseminate their contents.

It is expected that each Indigenous engagement session will include elders who are specialized knowledge holders from the 4 First Nation Band communities to provide traditional knowledge, guidance and a multi-generational perspective.

A contingency is available to provide honorariums for any additional subject matter experts which the community requests and feel is important to meet their needs as a stakeholder. A contingency can be used to set up virtual attendees as required in these meetings and support any access or complex travel needs of attendees.

The communications methods are different in each community. Devising an effective and relevant plan for the nuances of the community will be vital to the success of any communication plan.

While some communities may require social media messaging, others radio adverts, others still telephone lists, Voyent Alert mobile system some others rely on local message boards and telephone lists. This is something that can be discussed with communications professionals within municipalities and bands.

In rural areas, a thorough consultation with the Regional District's communications department review of existing emergency communications and best practice will inform how best to communicate broadly and to the region as a whole in a cost-effective manner.

Building identification for cooling centres and required upgrades

The requirement is to go to the community buildings e.g., community rec centres, band offices, gymnasiums, ice arenas, firehalls etc. which have been identified by the matrix of opportunities as having existing cooling capacity and community service capability. A detailed site visit and assessment of the existing HVAC equipment will be required along with a review of the ducting and distribution systems and space to site new equipment if required. The write up of these assessments will provide a detailed report of how changes to the HVAC can meet the needs of the community facility to respond to extreme heat e.g., upgrading cooling capacity or repurposing / filtering existing water supplies.

Reports with Class C cost estimates on energy consumption and upgrade potential have been compiled on at least 17 buildings around the region already. These are provided in kind allowing the engineers to spend the majority of their time proposing additional upgrades and strategizing on how to make buildings suitable for extreme heat response.

RDOS Community Services has conducted numerous Commercial Energy Assessments. Additional assessments have been conducted by member municipalities on the HVAC and potential for upgrade options.

Planning for new infrastructure

There are 90 parks within the region. The Consultant working on Risk Assessments will produce a matrix of opportunities highlighting area where services and enhanced services will be required for response.

The Design consultant employed for this section will build on that matrix and produce concept design for park areas. This will include the addition of new infrastructure which will include but not be limited to:

New free-standing canopies with solar panel roofs to be adapted to cooling centers when required. These structures could provide year-round shade and small power (e.g., mobile phone charging) they can then be adapted to air-conditioned enclosed spaces when an emergency response is required.

These spaces need to be designed to a basic level with a class c cost estimate and designed in space as part of overall park long-term action plans. This is the work of a design engineer and landscape designer working together.

In addition, the parks long-term action plan will use identified needs assessments for misting stations, water stations and pet friendly heat safe outside spaces and include these where required into park masterplans in a functional way that allows for emergency response but is mindful of to the year round functions and intentions and access to the space.

RDOS Community Services have conducted long-term action planning and will provide background documentation to support the design concept

4.3. Scoring Method:

The following method will be used to score the criteria:

- Price: Price will be scored relative to other Proponents using the following formula:
 - $Lowest\ Price \div Proponent's\ Price \times Weighting = Score$
- Other Criteria: All other criteria (except Price) will be scored by the evaluation committee, which will then be multiplied by the Weighting factor to provide a total weighted score out of 100 which includes price.

4.4. Clarifications & Remedy Period:

Notwithstanding the requirements for mandatory criteria and scored criteria detailed above, the RDOS will allow the following remedies and clarifications at its sole discretion:

- Remedy for missing submission requirements: If the RDOS finds that a Proposal fails to meet all of the submission requirements required of this RFP, then the RDOS may provide written notification to a Proponent which identifies the requirements not met and provides the Proponent with 48 hours to remedy and supply the requirements. The 48 hours shall commence upon notification by the RDOS to the Proponent. This option to remedy missing requirements shall not apply to Proposals not received by the RFP Closing Date and Time.
- Clarification of Proposals: During evaluation of the scored criteria, the RDOS may at its sole option, request further details or clarification from the Proponent and/or third parties, on aspects of a Proposal by way of a written request for clarification. Following receipt of the clarification information, the RDOS may use this information to reassess and/or re-score the Proposal according to the scored criteria.

4.5. Ranking of Proponents:

Following completion of the evaluation against the scored criteria, the weighted scores for each Proposal will be added together, and Proposals will be ranked according to their total weighted scores. The Proponent with the highest-ranked Proposal will be invited to conclude a Contract with the RDOS. In the event that two or more Proposals have an equal total weighted-score, then the Proponent with the Lowest Total Price will be invited to enter into a Contract with the RDOS.

4.6. Conclusion and Execution of a Contract

Neither the RDOS nor any Proponent will be legally bound until the execution of a written Contract or issuance of a Purchase Order. Following an invitation to a Proponent, by the RDOS, to conclude a Contract, it is expected that the RDOS and that Proponent would enter into discussions which may include, among other things:

- Clarification or amendment to the requirements, plus any resulting price adjustments, based on items submitted in the Proposal.
- Amendments to the terms and conditions, based on items submitted in the Proposal.

The RDOS would seek to execute a Contract within 10 days of issuing an invitation to the Proponent to conclude a Contract. If the RDOS and the Proponent do not, for any reason, execute a Contract within this time-period, the RDOS may discontinue the process with that Proponent and invite the Proponent with the next-highest-ranked Proposal to conclude a Contract. The RDOS may then continue this process until a Contract is executed, or there are no further Proponents, or the RDOS otherwise elects to cancel the RFP process entirely. For clarity, the RDOS may discontinue discussions with a Proponent if at any time the RDOS is of the view that it will not be able to conclude a Contract with that Proponent.

5. Other Terms & Conditions of this RFP Process:

The following terms and conditions shall also apply to this RFP:

5.1. Proposals in English:

All Proposals are to be in the English language only.

5.2. Only One Entity as Proponent:

Any other entity involved in delivering the Service should be listed as a Sub-Contractor. The Proponent may include the Sub-Contractor and its resources as part of the Proposal and the RDOS will accept this, as presented in the Proposal, in order to perform the evaluation. All Sub-Contractors to be used in the Service must be clearly identified in the Proposal.

5.3. Proposals to Contain All Content in Prescribed Forms:

All information that Proponents wish to be evaluated must be contained within the submitted Proposal. Proposals should not reference external content in other documents or websites. The RDOS may not consider any information which is not submitted within the Proposal or within the pre-prescribed forms set-out in this RFP.

5.4. References and Experience:

In evaluating a Proponent's experience, as per the scored criteria, the RDOS may consider information provided by the Proponent's clients on the projects submitted in the Proposal, and may also consider the RDOS's own experience with the Proponent.

5.5. RFP Scope of Work is an Estimate Only:

While the RDOS has made every effort to ensure the accuracy of the requirements and/or Services described in this RFP, the RDOS makes no guarantees as to the accuracy of the information provided. Any quantities or measurements provided are estimates only and are provided to describe the general nature and scale of the Services. Proponents must obtain all information they deem necessary, including verification of quantities or measurements in order to complete a Proposal.

5.6. Proponent's Expenses:

Proponents are solely responsible for their own expenses in participating in this RFP process, including costs in preparing a Proposal and for subsequent finalizations of an agreement with the RDOS, if required. The RDOS will not be liable to any Proponent for any claims, whether for costs, expenses, damages or losses incurred by the Proponent in preparing its Proposal, loss of anticipated profit in connection with any final Contract, or any matter whatsoever.

5.7. Retention of Proposals and FOIPPA:

Proposals submitted to the RDOS will not be returned and will be retained by the RDOS and shall become the property of the RDOS upon submission. Proponents should note that the RDOS may choose to make public any part of this Proposal, or any Proposal and any executed contract-- including the Contractors name and total contract price-- and further that, regardless of whether and the extent to which the RDOS elects to make anything available to the public, the RDOS would be required to disclose all or part of a Proposal or the executed contract pursuant to a request for disclosure under the Freedom of Information and Privacy Act (FOIPPA). Proponents should be aware of and review the RDOS's obligations under FOIPPA and the RDOS's limited ability to refuse to disclose third party information pursuant to Section 21 of FOIPPA.

5.8. Notification and Feedback to Unsuccessful Proponents:

Notification of awards shall be made via the BC Bid portal. Unsuccessful Proponents may then request a feedback email or telephone call with an RDOS representative in order to obtain feedback on how their Proposal fared in the evaluation. Such requests for feedback must be made within 30 days of notification of the RFP results. Details of feedback provided will be at the RDOS's sole discretion in order to protect the confidentiality of other Proponents and the RDOS's commercial interest.

5.9. Conflict of Interest:

All Proponents must disclose an actual or potential conflict of interest, by completing the Conflict-of-Interest form, included on page 31 that are requested of Proponents when submitting a Proposal. The RDOS may, at its sole discretion, disqualify any Proponent from this RFP process, if it determines that the Proponent's conduct, situation, relationship (including relationships of the Proponent's employees and RDOS employees) create or could be perceived to create a conflict of interest.

The RDOS may rescind or terminate a Contract entered into if it subsequently determines that the Proponent failed to declare an actual or potential conflict of interest during this RFP process.

5.10. Confidentiality:

All information provided to Proponents by the RDOS as part of this RFP process is the sole property of the RDOS and must not be disclosed further without the written permission of the RDOS.

5.11. No Contract A and No Claims:
